ANTIOCH HIGH WILL GRADUATE 68 TOMORROW

Prof. M. C. Graff Will Be
Speaker at Exercises
Friday Night

Certificates of graduation will be conferred on 68 students of Antioch Township High school at Commencement exercises to be held in the school auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Prof. M. C. Graff of the University of Wisconsin is to be the speaker. The diplomas will be presented by Arthur Maplethorpe, chairman of the high school board.

Opening the program will be selections by the high school band, and the processional of graduating students. The Rev. J. E. Charles, rector of St. Ignatius Episcopal church, is to give the invocation, which will be followed by the singing of Palestrina's "Agnus Dei" by the high school choir.

The graduating address and presentation of diplomas will come next, after which the chorus is to sing "Nobel Cain's arrangement of 'Roll, Chariot, Roll.'" The singing of the national anthem by the entire assembly and the benediction by the Rev. Warren C. Henslee, pastor of the Antioch Methodist church, will bring the commencement to a close.

Baccalaureate Held
Examinations took place yesterday and today, and group picnics were held today. The Baccalaureate service Sunday and the annual "Ivy Day" observance on Monday were other events of commencement week.

The Girls' Athletic association honored Clarice Minto, its retiring president, as the outstanding senior girl in the association for the year 1938-39. She was presented the club trophy at a banquet held last Wednesday evening in the high school. Janice, Kapple, Mildred Horan, Eileen Snyder and Phyllis Hughes also received high votes.

At the Ivy day ceremony, William Cisna was presented his gavel as a token of his election to the presidency (Continued on page 8)

H. S. AGAIN ON "APPROVED" LIST

North Central Association
Presents Certificate for Fifth Year

For the fifth consecutive year, Antioch High school has been placed on the "approved" list of the North Central Association of College and Secondary Schools, according to a notice which has been received here.

Being on the "approved" list of the association is a much-sought-after honor, since in order to qualify for it an educational institution must be on the highest list of schools approved and accredited by the school authorities within the state. It must also meet the policies, regulations and other criteria which the association maintains.

These include such matters as instruction and spirit, school plant, sanitation and janitorial service, instructional equipment, the school library and library service, school records, policies of the board of education, the quality of the teaching staff, and the general educational program and community relations of the school.

Carries Privileges
Graduates of schools approved by the association are privileged to enter institutions of higher learning within the North Central states without entrance examinations, providing their credits are in order. Since other approving agencies recognize North Central schools, this privilege is extended practically throughout the United States.

The North Central association includes secondary schools and institutions of higher learning in 20 states, extending from Montana south to Arizona, New Mexico and east to Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia. Membership is purely voluntary, and no school is approved unless there is the expressed desire of the local authorities for such approval.

The association's aim is to bring about a better cooperation between colleges and secondary schools, to consider and solve educational problems in common, and to promote the welfare of students and the aim of scholarship.

Former Antioch Teacher Wins Praise In Honolulu

Again high commendation for meritorious achievement has come to a former teacher in the Antioch Township High School. This time it is Hedvig Rice Finkenhinder, who has made an outstanding success as director of the Roosevelt high school's 225-voice A Cappella choir in Honolulu.

Characterized as the "most outstanding musical organization in the territory," by a Honolulu newspaper, the final concert of the season on May 12 was broadcast to the states over station KGMB.

Says the Honolulu Star-Bulletin: "Added to the attraction and interest which the splendid choir has created was the fact that Hedvig Rice Finkenhinder, its conductor, was making her final bow before Honolulu audiences and taking her departure at the end of the school year for leave of absence.

Achieves Great Results in Three Years
The concert was prefaced by introductory remarks by Robert Spencer, principal of the school, in which he traced the development of the choir. It seems that Mrs. Finkenhinder had practically begun from "scratch" with untrained voices three years ago. Unqualifiedly, we know of no other vocal ensemble which has achieved greater artistry and musicianship in so short a time, and it is a truly wonderful choral organization which she hands over to her successor, whoever he or she may be.

"We have reviewed several of the concerts by the group in the past, but last night's concert perhaps was the crowning achievement of all. Perhaps there was the additional sentiment and enthusiasm of choir and audience. Whatever it was, the occasion may be regarded as a high point of musical endeavor in the public schools."

OPEN PLANT FOR MANUFACTURE OF TWO-WAY RADIOS

Electrical Reproduction Company Prepares to Make Equipment

A plant and offices for the manufacture of their newly perfected two-way radio are being opened by the Electrical Reproduction company, at 390 Lake Street.

The new two-way radio, which represents five years' research on the part of Earl B. Yates and Bert Anderson, backed by many years' previous experience, is unique in that it permits sending and receiving of radio messages simultaneously. Two-way radios now in use by police departments, aircraft and for other purposes, permit only alternate sending and receiving.

Exclusive rights to the new invention will be offered to the United States government according to James McMillen, who is associated with the company. It is felt that the equipment will be particularly useful for army, navy and other governmental purposes. Patents have already been applied for.

Demonstrate for Sheriff's
A deputy sheriff from Winnebago county, Wis., is expected to be in Antioch today for a demonstration. On June 12, the company will give its equipment a workout for the Peoria county sheriff's department.

Other invitations for demonstrations have been received from Racine co., Wis., and LaGrange and Lincolnwood police departments. Many demonstrations have already been made.

As soon as aluminum metal can be worked up for the replacement of various parts of the equipment to lighten its weight for airplane use, a demonstration will be given for the U. S. Naval Training station at Great Lakes. The equipment as developed for automobile use is already extremely light and semi-portable. For aircraft use, its weight will be decreased considerably.

One of the many valuable features of the invention is that it allows for emergency replacement of parts in the event of any failure in transmission.

According to explanations on the part of the inventors, the new two-way radio is not so much a radical departure as a further development of radio communication facilities, based on the principles of those already in use, and carrying them on to a higher degree of efficiency.

On Market Soon

The company expects to have some sets on the market within two weeks. The highly efficient equipment necessary for the manufacture of the new sets will also be available for use in the radio repair work which the company (Continued on page 8)

CONTINUE SEARCH FOR CHICAGO MAN AT BLUFF LAKE

Kenosha Life-Saving Squad
Is Called in to Aid
Antioch Firemen

Search continued today for the body of a young man who lost his life in Bluff Lake Decoration day afternoon.

The drowned man was Douglass Huck, 21, of 1403 Central avenue, Chicago, and he was employed as a welder. He had come with a party of friends to spend the day at Bluff lake, and Huck and three companions went out in a boat 200 feet from shore to swim.

When he dived from the boat he failed to come to the surface, and a call was sent immediately for the life saving crew of the Antioch Fire Dept. Meanwhile his companions tried to locate the body but their efforts were futile. The accident is thought to have occurred about 200 feet off the south shore in about 12 feet of water.

Kenosha Red Cross Crew Aids
The Red Cross Life Saving crew of the Kenosha Boy Scouts was called in Wednesday morning to assist the firemen, who have continued to drag the lake.

The Kenosha crew, which has some of the best equipment available for life saving and for locating bodies of drowning victims, is manned to work in relays day and night.

It was this same crew that on May 8th discovered the body of William Johann, a Chicagoan who was drowned in Lake Marie two days previously.

A crew from the U. S. Coast Guard station at Wilmette arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning to aid in the search. They brought their own boat, mounted on a truck, together with grappling poles and other equipment.

The spot where Huck is believed to have drowned is in a comparatively clear strip of water, although there are beds of grass nearer the shore. The depth of the water in the clear strip varies considerably, according to the firemen who have been conducting the dragging operations. In some places depths of seven and eight feet were noted, while in others the water was from 12 to 14 feet deep.

It is thought that the body might be lodged in one of the deeper spots, or may have become entangled in some of the grassy spots to one side. The "tidal drift" through the lakes also makes the search more difficult.

Scare at Lake Marie
Rumors of a second drowning, and considerable alarm to his parents were caused when a 12 or 13 year old Chicago lad strayed away from his companions at Lake Marie on Tuesday. It was first believed that he was in the lake, but a call was put in to the Lake county sheriff's department, and a search revealed that he had wandered along the lake shore and became lost. Resort owners about the lakes have for years advocated that life guards be maintained at the various beaches, and that bathers, fishermen and boating parties observe all safety precautions.

May Make Allotments for 1940 Wheat Planting

Lake county farmers who plan to grow winter wheat for the first time this year, or spring wheat in the spring of 1940 for the first time, should make application to the Agricultural Conservation office, in the Farm Bureau building, Grayslake, Ill., either in person or by writing, stating the amount they intend to plant, within the next week, if they expect to receive an allotment under the AAA farm program, it is announced. Chester A. Faulkner, president of the county committee, is urging new wheat growers to send their planting plans as soon as possible to be able to share in the benefit payments and loan features.

Credit Unions to Hold Picnic Outing in July

A picnic to be held some time in July is among the coming events on the calendar of the Lake county chapter of credit unions. A group at Round Lake Beach is the latest to join the organization, which numbers 12 affiliates.

Assistant State Supt.
Inspects High School

S. E. Baker, assistant Illinois state superintendent of public instruction, inspected Antioch Township High school last Wednesday afternoon. He visited the Libertyville High school earlier in the day, and inspected Wauconda and Elia High schools on Thursday.

68 Young Men and Women

On Friday evening at Antioch Township High school, 68 young men and women will be given the diplomas that to them are symbols of "the world ready for conquering." Five years ago at graduation time the Antioch News printed, under the title "Better than Gold," the editorial that is reproduced below, in the belief that its message will be equally timely now:

This month there will go forth from our country's schools and colleges a large army of graduates, armed with the diplomas which are regarded as a mark of scholastic achievement. These fortunate ones through their efforts have received the rudiments of the world's knowledge, they have gained strength and character, and undoubtedly have in their possession the correct prescription which, if followed, will lead them to a true education.

From the lips of those qualified to speak from experience and with authority, the graduates have heard much of the rewards of service, the value of courage, the worth of character.

Some who have received diplomas will regard education as a means to add them to an easy life, or to be used solely for the selfish motive of gratifying personal greed for financial gain. This is a false conception of education.

Others, more fortunate in acquiring correct ideals through environment and temperament, will know that acquiring an education is only the process of preparing for a broader service in life; thus it follows that those best prepared to serve must assume greater responsibility. They will know that financial well-being inevitably follows useful service. They know that education really does pay in dollars and cents; they know, too, that this aspect of education is over-emphasized, since there are at least five things in life much more valuable than gold. They are: good health, a trained mind, a clear conscience, a few good and true friends, an opportunity for useful employment.

The true conception of education is interpreted in three aspects: What we know, or our knowledge, our ability, or what we are able to do; our character, or what we are. The least of these is our knowledge. Since humans must live with humans, it is not true that the ultimate in education is "humanism?" This is the true conception of education.

"PLAY SAFELY" POSTERS PUT UP AROUND LAKES

Safety for Swimmers and Boaters Is Urged in 500 Placards

Five hundred posters urging visitors and vacationists in the lakes region to "PLAY SAFE—AND LIVE" are being put up this week around lakes and resorts in the vicinity of Antioch, through the courtesy of the Antioch Lions club.

The Antioch fire department is lending its services for putting up the posters. Their placement has been authorized by the Antioch village board and by Thomas E. Kennedy, sheriff of Lake county.

Caution Urged
Because of the value of the message carried by the posters for the general public, it is being reproduced here:

"RULES FOR SAFE SWIMMING:

"Don't go swimming alone.

"Don't swim long distances unless accompanied by a boat.

"Don't swim for at least one hour after eating.

"Don't dive until you know the depth of the water.

"If you must swim from a boat, anchor the boat.

"RULES FOR SAFE BOATING:

"Don't change places in a boat or canoe.

"Only fools and drunks rock a boat."

"If a boat turns over, HANG ON TO THE BOAT."

"Don't stand up in a boat or canoe."

"Don't overload the boat."

"WHAT TO DO IN WATER ACCIDENTS:

"Rescue the person if possible. If person is NOT BREATHING give artificial respiration. AT ONCE and KEEP IT UP."

"Meanwhile have someone call ANTIOCH FIRE DEPARTMENT immediately and give EXACT location of scene of accident."

"If unable to rescue person try in some manner to MARK THE SPOT where person was last seen."

Chain o' Lakes Dredging Project Bid is Entered

The Illinois Division of Waterways is checking a bid of $33,345 submitted by Ray Pregonzer, Antioch, for channel dredging in Chain O' Lakes State park. Two projects were included in the bid, one for dredging a channel in Grass lake and in the channel connecting Grass lake and Lake Marie, and dredging in the Fox river under and adjacent to the bridge on State Route 173. Pregonzer was the only bidder.

Legion Ladies Take in $127 in Poppy Day Drive

Sales totaling $127, of which $80 was clear, were made by the American Legion auxiliary members selling poppies in the "Poppy Day" drive here Saturday. Proceeds will be used to aid disabled U. S. War veterans and the widows and orphaned children of veterans. Mrs. A. P. Bratrude was chairman of the local committee.

URGE ALL CITIZENS TO CAST VOTES IN JUDICIAL ELECTION

Point to Importance of Selection of Candidates on June 5

Importance of a circuit court judge has been the keynote of the three Republican candidates in urging citizens to vote at the judicial election Monday.

The three Republican candidates—Judge Ralph J. Dady of Waukegan, Atty. Thomas E. Gill of Rockford and Judge William L. Pierce of Belvidere—have carried their plea into every section of the circuit in recent weeks.

They base their claims to election on their records and the "independence of the judiciary" but warn citizens it will become strictly a party affair if they fail to cast a vote when the polls open Monday morning.

Due to the mechanics of the ballot, which has three Republican nominees and one Democratic nominee, the non-partisan voters were urged to make individual crosses in the square before the names of the three candidates they wish to name.

Errors Will Invalidate Ballot

It was pointed out that split-ticket voters would lose their vote unless crosses were opposite the individuals because the ballot is the group voting type. Party voters will not lose their vote, it was explained, if they put a cross in the circle opposite their party preference and no other place on the ballot.

The three Republican candidates have taken their cause directly to the people while Democratic party leaders, seeking to elect Atty. B. J. Knight of Rockford, aim to depend on those holding state jobs. The state party bosses indicated that state employees were expected to canvass their precincts and feel the time is opportune to elect their candidate in the belief that voters in the district will not use their voting opportunity Monday.

Election on Monday

It is an off-year election in the fullest sense and also a Monday and not a Tuesday election, as is customary. The district made up of Lake, McHenry, Boone and Winnebago counties, has two of its sitting judges—Judge Dady and Judge Pierce—candidates for re-election. The third bench nominee of the Republicans is Gill, named to replace Judge Arthur E. Fisher, who is retiring.

The judicial election is held every six years and the circuit judge exercises great power over the lives and property rights of every individual. Their election is an event of first importance in which every voter is being urged to participate by the Republican party.

The Middle Class

But do the insecure Americans regard themselves as an oppressed class? They want more security, certainly, but do they look for it in terms of "class war"?

Well, Gallup's investigators asked a representative sample: "To what class in this country do you feel you belong—middle class, or upper, or lower?" To this, 88 per cent responded "middle," only 6 per cent "lower"—less than the percentage on relief.

"It matters not how strait the gate, how charged with punishment the scroll—I am the captain of my fate; I am the master of my soul."

Americans can "take it" and not lose their heads!

Current Events

Being a press agent to a post office would seem a rather empty task. Nevertheless, the Post Office department in Washington has a corps of publicity experts. So it is that the public is informed of these postal developments which should not pass without editorial comment.

The department has perfected a new automatic mailing machine which will soon be installed in various post offices. A letter can be dropped in the machine, along with the proper amount of postage money, and the letter is automatically stamped. No technological unemployment among postmasters is anticipated, for there'll still have to be somebody to read the postal cards and run political errands.

Also the department announces that the volume of mail has been on the increase. The figures show an increase every year for the last three years. There is no way of telling why, but could it be that more people are writing to Washington about taxes and the national debt?

Who Owns a Company

A typical American company recently set about finding out who its owners are. It had known, of course, that the company president was no more the sole owner than is the President of the United States the sole owner of the country he administers. The company learned it is owned by average citizens, living average lives, investing their money in average companies, because they have faith in American industry and the American plan of producing wages and dividends from honest work and honest products.

Many persons might be called indirect shareholders. They enjoy returns without actually owning stock of the company. It comes about, for example, through them having insurance policies issued on their lives, or homes, or places of business issued by insurance companies, that are part owners through shareholdings in the average company. Such investments of paid insurance premiums safeguard the ultimate payment of an insurance policy. Thus each policy holder benefits indirectly by the advance of the companies in which the insurance company has its investments. The same is true of those holding shares in investment trusts. Likewise, this may be said of those using the facilities of universities, hospitals and clinical foundations. These institutions keep going on the earnings of their endowments, realized from holdings in stocks of average American companies. Partnerships in estates are another example.

A breakdown of stockholders of this average company showed that 4,300 of them are men. Some are wealthy. More are not. Then, there are 4,084 women—mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, sweethearts, widows, women who are in business for themselves, teachers, secretaries, clerks, office managers, doctors.

Thus an average American company is owned mostly by ordinary citizens engaged in the regular pursuits of life. But as the result of the ownership being shared by such institutions as universities, hospitals, and charitable organizations, the benefits are passed on to those of the general public who enjoy their facilities and services. This indirectly shares with non-stockholders the fruits of ownership. The public in this way is better off when the average company progresses.

Mark Fisher and son, Fred Fisher, of Dundee, Florida, have arrived for the summer months in Randall. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Voss, Mrs. Paul Voss, Darlene, and Avis Voss, and Mrs. M. Fisher were at Lake Zurich for the day with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Marzani and family.

"The Magic Bean Stalk," an operetta presented by the Kenosha County schools at the Wilmot gymnasium on Thursday night drew the largest crowd ever assembled at the gymnasium. The operetta was directed by Gladys Schmalfeldt. Nadia Hegeman of Wilmot took the part of Jack's mother, and others from the Wilmot grade school were in the chorus. The operetta was very cleverly executed and proved very popular with the large audience.

Edward Sarbacher, Kenosha, and Albert Sarbacher, Milwaukee, spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. Joseph Sarbacher, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sarbacher. Sunday the group motored to Harvard for the day with friends.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

ADVERTISING'S NO MYSTERY

SOME of us remember well when John Slatery started in business. He couldn't have been over 25 and he had only a few hundred dollars in capital. But he did have a wife and two fine boys. He wanted to make them comfortable. He quit his job, went in on his own.

Charles Roth

At first he would come to us and in his frank, likable way ask if we would buy from him. We liked John. He flattered us to have him invite us to become his customers. We began trading with him.

He treated us so considerably and so honestly; he gave us such good service; he was so grateful for our patronage, that we enjoyed being his customers. It made us feel good. Others felt the same way. His business grew.

Then he began asking more people to trade with him than he could reach in person. He had to run small advertisements in the newspaper, which he wrote himself after store hours.

As he grew larger he ran larger advertisements, and where in the beginning he had a handful of customers, now he had several hundred.

bers of the Civil War and the late war carrying the flag.

Antioch High school pupils who will receive their diplomas tonight are Carrie E. Cannon, Richard M. Cass, Ada F. Chinn, Helen I. Cribb, Dwight J. Drom, Mildred C. Galiger, Ardis W. Grinnin, Beulah C. Harrison, Albert L. Herman, Elmer Kufalk, Leba La Plant, Emil R. Lubkeman, Lester L. Nelson and Albert L. Nelson.

He continued to advertise in the newspaper. His business continued to grow. He couldn't know all his customers by name now, of course, but they felt that they could buy from him with confidence because he had been recommended to them by another friend whom they had always trusted.

This other friend who recommended John Slatery was the newspaper which carried his advertising.

Whatever you read in the newspaper you naturally feel you can believe, because you know that a reputable newspaper will not accept advertising from any but honest and reliable concerns.

Because this young man starting in business made use of that aid he built his business. As his business grew he was able to give his customers better service and more for their money.

Although few of the persons reading his advertisements and becoming his customers realized it, they were all indebted to the newspaper for its service in bringing to their attention an opportunity of getting more for their money by publishing advertisements of this enterprising young man.

Advertising is serving us in this same way every day, by bringing information of where we can buy most advantageously, by helping us to find what we want the lowest possible prices.

FACTS FAVOR FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range — and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.

2 The structural strength of the Ford car — frame, bracing, axles, body — makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.

These four points — power, strength, safety, comfort — are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see — quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

England's Wall Street

The City of London, ruled over by the Lord Mayor, is England's Wall Street and newspaper row. Over this small district rules the Lord Mayor, whose show each fall is one of the greatest sights of London. He must be a man of wealth, for his salary does not begin to cover the expenses of his office. There is a lot of satisfaction in his job just the same, for he it is who must give the king of England permission to enter this small domain.

Fountain Pens Long in Use

About 300 years ago two adventurous Dutchmen journeyed to Paris. A diary of their experiences reads as follows: "We met a man," they relate in one entry, "who makes goose quills of silver, into which he pours ink. And from the split end of the pen, one can cover pages and pages without being obliged to dip in an inkwell. This veritable magician of writing takes care to guard his secret—how he gets the ink into the hollow pen and how the ink arrives at the nib with just the right flow. He will soon make a fortune. We ourselves ordered a dozen, at twelve gold louis (about £10) each."

Sculptured Female Figures Caryatides are sculptured female figures which in some classical and Renaissance buildings serve as supports, taking the place of columns or pilasters. The most noted of such figures stand in the ruins of the Erechtheum at Athens and in a hall of the Louvre in Paris.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alms Mesmerism and Hypnotism" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 28.

The Golden Text was, "Mine hand will be upon the prophets that see visions, and that declare them: and shall know that I am the Lord" (Ezekiel 13:9).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord: Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God" (Deuteronomy 18:10, 11, 12 to 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Mind rightly demands man's entire obedience, affection, and strength. No reservation is made for any lesser loyalty. Obedience to Truth gives man power and strength. Submission to error superinduces loss of power" (p. 183).

The Colossal Caves
The Colossal caves are about 27 miles southeast of Tucson, Ariz. Rivaling in beauty and size the Carlsbad caves of New Mexico, this natural wonder has for many years remained almost unknown to travelers. But in recent years the caves and surrounding area have been improved under the supervision of the national park service. The ceiling is ornamented with intricate silver webbing. There are stalactites of translucent calcite. Many of these are so hard that if struck with the hand they ring like chimes. In some places the stalactites and stalagmites have joined and the result is columns of unusual shapes.

Decorate Millburn Graves
The graves of 36 soldiers in the Millburn cemetery were decorated at Memorial Day services held there Tuesday afternoon.

A memorial address by the Rev. Melvin Frank, appropriate readings by Thelma Clark and Allan Thain, and music by the choir of the Millburn church composed the program. "Taps" was blown by Miss Dorothy Herrick.

Arrangements for the service next year will be under the chairmanship of Victor Strang. He is to be assisted by J. S. Denman, in charge of the decoration of the soldiers' graves.

Onyx Club Orchestra to Play at Gateway Theater

"Stuff" Smith, composer of "I've a Muggin'" and the leader of the famed Onyx club orchestra, will be at the Gateway theater in Kenosha next Saturday and Sunday, June 3 and 4, at the matinee and evening performances, to entertain with the swing music which has made the name of "Stuff" Smith a Broadway and Chicago byword.

When Walter Winchell wrote, "Look for the next wallop in swing bands when 'Stuff' Smith and his boys open at the Onyx club," he was right, for "Stuff" and his boys have made the Onyx club nationally famous as "The Cradle of Swing."

This great colored orchestra has recently completed a successful five months engagement at the Blue Fountain room of Chicago's Hotel La Salle. Featured with the orchestra are several of the hottest stars of swing, including Jonah Jones, Harlem's famous "Gabriel of the Trumpet."

Regular admission prices will prevail.

Still Seek Clues in Death of Wilmot Man

Investigation is still under way by probate officials in Kenosha county and Chicago as to the circumstances of the death of Henry Duesing on April 28 in Chicago under mysterious circumstances, and as to the disposition of his estate of over $100,000.

Mr. Duesing came to this country from Germany with his parents and settled at Wilmot and was employed in the vicinity as a farm hand, around forty years back. In Chicago he was employed as a theater janitor and in this capacity conceived the idea of a suction cleaner which he patented and this became the forerunner of the present day vacuum cleaners.

About fifteen years ago he returned to Wilmot where he purchased the Siedschlag home on the Fox river. Mr. Duesing spent a great amount of time on the care of the grounds and transformed the place into a miniature park.

On April 27 Mr. Duesing took the late train from Silver Lake on the Soo line to Chicago. He was found by the room maid unconscious in a hotel the next day. All marks of identification had been removed from his clothes and just a bank book, with no name, and eight cents was found in the room. He was transferred to the Cook County hospital where he died that day and then to the Cook County morgue. His absence for several weeks started an investigation and his body was discovered by these friends after they traced it from the morgue to a medical school where it had been turned over following lack of identification, for research purposes.

Burial services were held in Chicago on May 25 with interment in Rosehill cemetery.

Use of Car Couplings

Railroads first started changing from the pin and link coupling when Ezra Miller patented his automatic coupler in 1863. By 1870 it was in general use in the middle and western states and a few years later in use on most of the railroads in the United States. The Pennsylvania railroad in 1878 made the Janney coupler, which was patented by E. H. Janney in 1877, standard equipment for its passenger cars. In 1887 a recommendation of the Master Car Builders' association for the adoption of vertical plane couplers discontinued the use of the pin and link couplers on all roads. The Janney coupler was made standard by this association in 1888.

Kilkenny Cats Just Ordinary

There are no more cats in Kilkenny than in any other Irish town, nor do they fight more. The old yarn to the contrary arose out of the dissensions of the Seventeenth century between the English and Irish sections of the town, the tale being developed by Swift, who was educated in its ancient Grammar school.

Lake County Firemen Issue New Directory

Lake county has 24 fire trucks and more than 200 firemen available in the event of a major emergency, it is revealed by the 36-page directory just issued by the Lake County Firemen's association. Equipment includes 12 inhalators (of which three are the property of the Antioch Fire department), 17 gas masks and a large number of first aid kits.

For fire fighting purposes, the county is zoned into five districts. Antioch is included in District No. 1, together with Fox Lake, Grayslake, Round Lake and Lake Villa.

The other districts are: Fire district No. 2—Libertyville, Mundelein, (also in No. 3) Grayslake (also in No. 1), Wauconda (also in No. 3).

Fire district No. 3—Long Grove, Lake Zurich.

Fire district No. 4—Zion, Grantee, Waukegan, American Steel and Wire company, Cyclone Fence company, Abbott Laboratories, Great Lakes Naval Training station, Chicago Hardware Foundry.

Fire Damages Smith Hotel at Fox Lake

Damage to the extent of $2,000 was done to the Smith hotel on Nippersink drive, east of Route 12 near Fox Lake by fire of unknown origin Friday night. The blaze was extinguished by the Fox Lake fire department. Frank Smith, operator of the hotel, who was awakened by the crackling of flames at 2 a. m., was overcome by smoke and collapsed just as the firemen arrived. He was revived by Dr. Arthur C. Neeseman.

'round the Resorts

Charles A. Anderson is busy making plans these days for the Sixteenth Anniversary party to be held by Anderson's tavern on Highway 59 at Petite Lake, June 10. . . . A popular place for picnics and parties over the holidays and week-ends is Herman's resort on the lake front at Bluff Lake. A shower honoring Miss Frances Meyer, Grass Lake, was held there last Wednesday evening.

Despite an emergency appendicitis attack that sent the proprietor, Julius Stern, to St. Therese's hospital in Waukegan for an operation Saturday noon, the staff of The Country House at Channel Lake, carried on, and a "house warming" was held there Monday evening. . . . with a good attendance.

Sunburned "youth hostlers" are among the things that worry Mrs. H. S. Roberts, of Roberts' resort on Lake Marie, where there is a "Hostel cottage." After one or two experiences acting as emergency nurse to parties of young people bicycling from Chicago to Milwaukee via the lakes area, Mrs. Roberts has learned to issue warnings about blistered knees and elbows, and swollen eyelids. Hostlers are supposed to stay over only one night, but in one case she was obliged to keep two girls for nearly a week before they were judged to have recovered from the effects of the sunburn enough to go on.

Leonard Schaffner's many friends have been dropping in to visit him at his "Chateau" on Route 54, which he purchased from Al Kumpier recently. . . . and to sample the "home cooking" there.

The Observer

Girls are beginning to make their appearance on Antioch's Main street in shorts, while everybody else clings to warm clothes. Maybe it's an idea, though, at that. If we all act as though summer is here, perhaps it really will arrive—finally.

A newspaper of half a century ago carries this plaint—

"When the golden sun is setting and the day is nearly gone, when the cows are homeward coming, slowly, when the day is done, think then of the weary printer, who from rising of the sun, has been laboring unceasing, yet his work has just begun. Slow the darkness gathers round us, while he labors on in vain, with weary heart and empty pocket, till the morning comes again. Then the mournful wind is sighing, colder gets the frosty air, and the coal bin almost empty, hallowed by the devil's care. Some sit before their hearthstone, and in comfort all the while, searching through the weekly papers, printed in the latest style. Does he ever for one moment think the cost is nothing small, to the editor to gather news of every, each and all? Yet this gentleman of leisure will not once remember when he his last subscription settled, or the thankful look he then from that never tiring genius did receive although the pen kept on scratching, never resting, that when next week came around, names and faces, news of all kinds in the paper might be found. Let us tell to those who have not of the printer cast a thought, some three years have passed unheeded and to him no money brought. Please remember us from this on and your dollars freely give, else the gleaner of news items will not long among you live."

Proving that editors in the golden days of journalism had their little worries, too.

Freedom at any price, and none of this economic slavery, is the motto of Mrs. Elizabeth Behler's little boy, Glenn, to whom his cousin, Howie Gaston, sax artist and demon printer, offered 5c if he would refrain from eating candy from 10 a. m. Monday till Tuesday a. m. In a short time the young man reappeared in the Antioch News shop, "Take back your nickel," he signed.

COAST GUARD TO RESCUE

While on her trial run near Bay City, Mich., the new Coast Guard icebreaker "Barltan" was called upon to open a passage in heavy Great Lakes' ice for two steamers en route to Cleveland on the first trip of the 1939 season. Photograph above was taken from the stern of the Barltan, which is shown in the inset. Powered with two 8-cylinder, V-type General Motors 2-cycle Diesel engines, the 110-foot icebreaker had no trouble cutting through the ice, which was as much as 15 inches thick in places. With a elster ship, the "Naukatuck," the icebreaker was built at Bay City for use out of Atlantic Coast ports.

PAUL PLEADS HIS OWN CASE

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:40—22:4; 24:14-16; 26:19-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day—Acts 23:1.

"They say. What do they say? Let them say!" So reads the inscription over a doorway of one of the great schools of England. What does it mean? It bespeaks the confidence of a life lived so nobly that the barbs flung out by wicked and slanderous tongues may be faced without fear, in fact, ignored.

The best defense against the attacks of men is the testimony of a good life. Paul had lived such a life, and consequently when the hour came for him to speak in his own defense, he needed but to point to the record. It is significant that his enemies did not deny the facts. They could only cry out, throw off their garments and throw dust in the air while they shouted, "Away with such a fellow from the earth!" (Acts 22:22-24). They did, indeed, manufacture accusations against him, but even the heathen officials knew enough to throw these out of court. The impotent rage shown by wicked men when they run up against the consistent testimony of a true Christian life is one of the strongest of testimonies to the genuineness of faith.

At first glance the portions assigned for our lesson seem somewhat unrelated though taken from the same general narrative. A little study reveals a surprising unity.

I. A Matter of Conviction (21:40—22:4).

Many men and women have no real convictions. They are Republicans or Democrats because their fathers were, and often they have not the remotest idea of what it all means. They are members of a certain denomination because they were brought up in it, and have little knowledge of its teachings and no definite convictions relative to them.

Paul was a Christian because of strong personal convictions of the deepest kind. He was reared in a tradition which made him a bitter persecutor of the followers of Christ, and it was a personal experience of the regenerating grace of God in Jesus Christ which made him into the bond slave of the One he had persecuted. We need more of that kind of know-so and say-so type of faith. Joining a church as one might join a social club means nothing—but following Christ in full and free devotion is everything.

II. A Matter of Authority (24:14-16).

Just as Paul's life was built on faith which was inward, based on personal convictions, it was also a faith that was Godward, based on the authority of His Word. The Jews might call it heresy, but Paul stood on "all things which are written" (v. 14); he had a "hope toward God" (v. 15), and "a conscience void of offense toward God" (v. 16).

Those who ridicule Christianity would have it that faith is really credulity. They say we believe things which we do not know to be true, while hoping that they may somehow prove to be so. A man who reads these notes in his hometown newspaper recently wrote to ask me if I was fool enough to believe the things I wrote. The fact is that we, even as did Paul, have the strongest of all foundations for our faith, namely the Word of God. Men act in faith on the word of their fellow men—their very existence is all bound up in that faith in men whom they hardly know. They believe them, but they will not believe God. I suggested to my correspondent that he read 1 Corinthians 1:18-25 and 2:14.

Christian faith calls for a personal belief, but that belief is not in any word of man, but in the Word of God, which abideth forever.

III. A Matter of Witness (26:19-23).

Inward, Godward, and now outward in witness—these are the three relationships of Paul's good life. He could plead in his own defense the record of his life, for he had not selfishly cherished a fellowship with God which had lighted and warmed his own soul and then left his fellow man to sit in the chilling darkness of sin. He was obedient to the heavenly vision (v. 19), and preached repentance, faith, and good works to both Jew and Gentile (v. 20), continuing to do so with God's help even in the face of severe persecution.

Some people are just so good that they are "good for nothing." Such men do not reflect the goodness of God. Every attribute of God is an active one. He is love and He does love. He not only is good, but He does good. His children should be like Him. They are not saved only that they may escape hell and enjoy the peace of God. They are saved to serve in the winning of others to Christ. Let us covet such a good life as that which Paul lived. Our bewildered age needs the sanctifying and stabilizing influence of such lives!

MAN GETS LIFE FOR CRIME OF WHICH HE ACCUSED ANOTHER

Found Guilty of Murdering and Mutilating Child
Nine Years Ago.

MONTREAL — Charged with a murder of which he accused another man nine years ago, Antonio Godon, 28, will spend the remainder of his life in a hospital for the insane.

Godon is alleged to have criminally assaulted and then murdered seven-year-old Simone Caron, whose mutilated body was found in the basement of Roussin academy, near here, in 1930.

Albert Nogaret, a lay brother in the religious order which operated the academy, was charged with the crime, largely on the evidence of Godon, who at that time was employed as a dishwasher in the institution.

Nogaret, known in the religious order as Brother Desilhee, was convicted and sentenced to death, but won a retrial and was acquitted. Broken in health, but protesting his innocence, he returned to France, his native land, where he died a few months ago.

Behind Godon's arrest lies a story of years of patient sleuthing by Quebec detectives and of the vow of Lucien Gendron, Montreal lawyer who had defended Brother Desilhee, to prove to the world his client's innocence.

Gets Anonymous Note.

While the monk was in jail awaiting trial police received an anonymous note reading:

"Free that brother. He is as innocent as the snow. I killed the little one."

As proof, the writer of the letter sent with it a ring identified as having been worn by Simone Caron when she met her death.

Studying the note carefully, detectives became convinced of its authenticity, although its tone indicated its writer was mentally unbalanced. Gradually, the finger of suspicion pointed toward Godon and special operators were placed on his trail.

He left the Roussin academy and was shadowed as he drifted from town to town and from job to job. Detectives sought to obtain a specimen of his handwriting, but Godon apparently shunned pen and pencil.

Finally Get Goods on Him.

Finally, special investigators succeeded in inducing the suspect to take a job in a northern Quebec lumber camp, whose crew included five other investigators. They persuaded Godon to sing, lauded his attempts and demanded the words of the song.

"I can't remember them," one operator said. "Here, write them down for me."

Godon complied. The specimen of his handwriting was rushed to Montreal and pronounced by experts to be identical with that in the "confession" note.

Godon was arrested and brought to trial with Lucien Gendron, who had defended Brother Desilhee, this time conducting the prosecution for the crown.

The trial was halted, however, by questions as to the accused man's sanity. Witnesses testified he was "decidedly eccentric."

Alienists testified Godon had the mentality of a 10-year-old child. A special jury ruled him unfit to stand trial and he was committed to a mental hospital.

France Presents Books

To Alabama U. Library

TUSCALOOSA, ALA.—Latest addition to the main library at the University of Alabama is a set of 32 volumes of French history, a gift from the Republic of France.

The books consist of memoirs written by French notables and published at intervals during the Nineteenth century. Some of them were printed as early as 1837.

This gift is the second library donation made to the University of Alabama by a foreign nation. During her reign the late Queen Victoria of England presented a set of works, but the books were lost when the library was destroyed during the Civil war.

Telephone Call Stolen;

Long Distance for $25

OAKLAND.—Joseph Hervieu, advertising man, was surprised to find an item of $25 on his telephone bill for long distance calls.

Police investigated and found a short-story writer who had been having trouble with her "boy friend" in a neighboring city. She admitted having obtained a key to Hervieu's apartment and borrowing his telephone in an effort to patch up difficulties. How serious these difficulties really were was indicated by the fact that one of the conversations lasted 69 minutes.

Youthful Driver Thinks

White Cats Are Unlucky

NEWBURYPORT, MASS.—White cats are just as unlucky as black ones, as far as Peter L. Angelos Jr., 22, is concerned.

Trying unsuccessfully to avoid hitting a white cat which had scampered into the path of his automobile, Angelos swerved his machine into a fence. Police arrived, buried the cat and charged the youth with driving an uninsured car.

The case was filed when Angelos agreed to pay for the fence.

But It's True

The authentic survivors of the Russian nobility are all congregated in apartments on the left bank of the Seine. Virtually all of them are employed in one way or another.
Mrs. Halstead has been married four times. Her sons are John Marfens, John Greece, John Ribben-towne and John Halstead.

Moles Slow Breeders

Contrary to popular belief, moles are slow breeders and do not reproduce themselves rapidly. Three babies is the average mole family for a year. The youngsters stay in a crude nest in the run for about six weeks. They are then fully grown and go out into the runs to shift for themselves.

Several Species of Rattlesnakes

There are several species of rattlesnakes, and some are so like their surroundings that it is almost impossible to detect them until the loud rattle is heard. This noise is evidently given to alarm enemies, for when the snake is cornered it is produced with the greatest power.

All Metals in Rocks

Almost all metals are found imbedded in rocks, and metal and rock cannot be separated by any single simple process. Many processes are used which gradually reduce the rock and increase the metal content of the ore as it is worked. This is called ore beneficiation.

ELECTRIC FENCES NOT ALWAYS SAFE

Improperly Charged Wiring May Kill Live Stock.

By David S. Weaver, Agricultural Engineer, North Carolina State College—WNU Service.

Caution should be exercised in the use of the electric fence, which is becoming so popular with farmers in pasturing live stock. While electric fences have met with general acceptance because the cost of the fence and the cost of operation is materially less than the standard type of stock fencing, all electric fencing does not have a clear slate of safety.

Reports by investigators have shown several instances where stock has been killed by wiring that was improperly charged. In some instances it was homemade contraptions which were rigged up by persons who did not know what degree of shock the apparatus was delivering and did not understand how much shock was necessary or safe for live stock.

A word of caution to those who might be contemplating installing an electric fence would be to secure the equipment from those sources which have had extensive experience and have the equipment on a safe basis. The buyer also should follow throughout the directions by the manufacturer for safely installing the controller.

No person should attempt to install a homemade apparatus without first consulting some person competent of giving information as to safety precautions to be followed. The proper grounding of the wiring system and electrical equipment around farm buildings is also important, as a slight shock from improperly grounded systems has been known to kill cattle.

Eggs With Thick Whites Are in Greater Demand

Eggs with a large quantity of thick albumen, or thick white, are regarded as of excellent quality. Consumers also want eggs with a large percentage of thick white because it stands up well around the yolk when broken. Such eggs are particularly in demand for poaching.

Some fresh eggs have more thick white than others, and poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture have been experimenting to find out why. They find that a hen's ability to lay eggs with thick white is an inherited characteristic. They find that some hens lay eggs with a greater percentage of thick white than other hens of the same breed and in the same flock.

The season has a slight effect on the percentage of thick white, but other factors, such as feed, periods of light and heavy production, and egg weight do not affect the percentage.

At the national agricultural research center, Beltsville, Md., Dr. C. W. Knox, geneticist of the bureau of animal industry, has bred two flocks which further prove that the thick white characteristic is inherited. One flock lays eggs that average 68 per cent thick white. Eggs from the other flock average only 45 per cent thick white. The average fresh egg has from 50 to 52 per cent thick white.

Tree Booster

Young trees never stop growing when they are moved from the nursery to permanent locations, if a bucketful of moistened peat moss is placed in each hole at planting time, reveals the Country Home Magazine. Dr. H. B. Tukey, of the New York Experiment station, found that apple trees which were set in peat moss produced six times as much top growth the first season as those that were planted without it. By the end of the fourth season, the peat-moss trees looked like five-year-olds. A 150-pound bale of peat moss, costing around $3, is enough for 50 trees.

Outwitting the Weather

Some 6,000 cotton growers now get perfect stands of their crops, irrespective of soil and weather conditions, by using variable-depth planters, says the Country Home Magazine. They place the successive seeds at different depths that vary from a fraction of an inch to two inches. If the weather is dry, the deeper seed will come up; if it is wet, the shallow ones come up. If conditions are so favorable that all the seeds germinate, the least thrifty are hoed out at chopping time.

White Tomato

California state department of agriculture announces a new white tomato, developed by Dr. Jonas Clark, a former and physician of Gilroy. The doctor describes the new species as "absolutely white, about the same size as the ordinary tomato, but much sweeter." It was developed after eight years of experimentation, states the Indiana Zucchini's Guide. The Mexican growers on the farm have christened it "El Tomate Blanco."

'Cooler' More Than

'Term' to This Robber

FORT WORTH, TEXAS.—A young robber really got "put in the cooler" here when he tried to steal the contents of a cold storage vault.

The manager saw the youth break the lock and enter the vault. So he closed the door and barricaded it, then informed police that there was "no hurry" for them to seize the youth.

JAIL PRESERVED AS INTERESTING RELIC

Blasted Deep in Rock for Arizona Bad Men.

CLIFTON, ARIZ.—Citizens of this city seldom create unlawful excitement, although the city boasts the most famous and strongest jail in the Southwest.

Blasted out of the solid rock of a mountainside in the early seventies, the prison oddly enough had as its first occupant the man who contracted to dynamite and pick the cells from the rock for the safekeeping of the early day Arizona outlaws.

Officers said the man went on a spree as he completed the long task that came near equaling a one-man war, and they were forced to lock him up to safeguard citizens from the gunfire of his celebration.

The old jail, complete with its iron doors, is preserved now as an interesting relic of the days when the men it confined were the notorious southwest gunmen, stage robbers and horse thieves.

The jail has a perfect record of no escapes. Explanation for this, however, is probably in the fact that the only possible way of fleeing offered the frontier bad men was through the two small ventilation windows 20 feet above the floor of one of the two cells. The other cell has no windows at all.

Entrance to the cells is 15 feet below the street surface. Several prisoners nearly drowned once when the San Francisco river overflowed and flooded the cells. Water flowed into the tunnel and began to rise in the cells amid the screams of the prisoners. The men were rescued through one of the small windows by struggling to remain afloat until the water reached the height of the windows.

Although no one here can remember when the prison last was occupied, it has served its purpose in detaining some of the most dangerous criminals of the frontier west.

Among the more notorious bad men held in the stone jail were John Kelly and William Doud, who later were hanged in Tombstone, Ariz., for a robbery and murder, and William Christian, known throughout Arizona as "Black Jack." Christian "died with his boots on" after a series of stage robberies.

Indiana Grave of Kin of Cromwell Is Discovered

BRAZIL, IND.—The tomb of Oliver Cromwell, Clay county, Ind., pioneer and descendant and namesake of the famous Lord Protector of the English Commonwealth, has been found buried deep in a woods in southern Indiana.

For many years the burial site was unknown but Harry L. Elkin of Bowling Green, Ind., a great-great-nephew of Cromwell, located some family records and started an extensive search.

He came upon the stone vault in a dense thicket of assafras trees on the old Cromwell farm near Bowling Green. The tomb was built in 1855.

Cromwell settled in Owen county, Ind., in 1824, and later moved to Bowling Green, where he held several public offices. He was born in Kentucky in 1783 and enlisted in the Kentucky militia during the War of 1813, later serving under the command of Col. John Dudley.

He was with Dudley when the colonel lost his life in a battle with Indians. Dudley had disregarded orders concerning pursuing Indians and his troops fell into a trap. Cromwell was taken prisoner and saved by the timely arrival of Chief Tecumseh.

Is Fatally Burned Week

After Warning by Seer

CANONSBURG, PA.—One week after a fortune teller warned that "something terrible is going to happen to you," Mrs. Margaret Cerenzo, 34 years old, was burned fatally in a kerosene explosion in her home.

Only 12 hours before the fatal blast, Mrs. Cerenzo had pleaded with the police to lock her up in a cell "so nothing can happen to me." Officers laughingly refused her request and sent her home with the assurance that no harm would come to her. Mrs. Cerenzo died.

Woman Blind 16 Years

Recovers Sight at 78

RIO GRANDE CITY, TEXAS.—After 16 years of blindness Mrs. Sabina Garcia, 78 years old, of Garfield county, has regained her sight.

Eye specialists had told her that she never would regain her vision. But recently she complained of a severe headache. A relative applied an ordinary eyewash.

Within a few hours she announced that she could see and to prove it she read newspaper headlines to her family.

TRUTH about ADVERTISING

By CHARLES B. ROTH

FINE GOLD

IF YOU want to discover the humanizing influence of advertising, one of the extra dividends it pays you every time you buy, make this experiment:

First go into the store of a merchant who doesn't advertise; it probably won't be a very large store. Next go into the store of a merchant who does. See where you receive the most courteous, the most attractive, the most gracious service and treatment.

One of the big truths of advertising is that it not only saves you money when you buy, but also makes your buying more pleasant.

The merchant who advertises has an obligation to uphold—the obligation of fair prices and better service. This obligation becomes the ideal of his business. Whatever the advertiser says about his goods and his store he feels he must provide. As a result, the intangible influence of the printed word makes itself felt in the courtesy, consideration and desire to serve of every member of his organization.

You may have noticed that when a store begins to advertise something takes place. Its employees, clear down to the delivery boy, become seized with the inspiration the advertising has set up.

The reason for this influence of advertising is not hard to find. The advertiser is a leader, and every leader has an obligation.

You as a customer benefit greatly by this indirect value of advertising. You benefit in additional courtesy, additional consideration and in the additional value you receive for your money, because advertising has always been the one means by which prices have been brought down.

The merchant who advertises sets himself up as a price and quality standard for the community. You buy from him and receive the most for your money. And you also receive the most in human values—in what a wise man once called "the fine gold of business."

The time when business is the pleasantest is when a fine sense of mutual confidence exists between buyer and seller. In helping bring this feeling about, newspaper advertising contributes something to business which is of as much value as its practical services.

It contributes a mutuality of feeling that gives business a character and a trust that nothing can replace. Fine gold, you know.

He was tried for murder and pleaded insanity, but was found guilty, and dressed in a suit embroidered in silver he was taken in his own carriage from the Tower of London to Tyburn to be hanged. It is said that as a special concession to his request the rope used was of silk.
